

SPENCE BOOTH

Spence is refined and particular, designed with careful attention to detail allowing for different colour pallets and materials to combine for a subtle and impressive result.

A high-back, vertically-slatted timber structure frames the Spence, whose linear lines are divided by the softer contours of its half-circle backrest. In its truest form, the seat is crafted using exposed, Australian timbers to showcase their natural intricacies against the painted frame, though can also house upholstered seat padding. Spence can be arranged in linear or back-to-back configurations for indoors or outdoors.
